

Reds Say UN Soldiers Enter Neutral Zone

Meeting to be Held
By Liaison Officers
Wednesday to Settle Issue

By Don Huth

TOKYO, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Communists tonight charged four Allied soldiers had invaded the Kaesong neutral zone. The Reds demanded a meeting of liaison officers Wednesday "to settle this matter."

The United Nations command replied that its representatives would go to the meeting at 9 a. m. Wednesday (6 p. m. Tuesday, Central Standard Time.)

The meeting place will be Panmunjom, six miles east of Kaesong, site of the suspended truce talks. The Communist note asserted that "four of your military personnel" entered both Kaesong's neutral zone and Panmunjom at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, a dispatch from Munsan said.

"We request your liaison officer to come to Panmunjom at 0900 hours tomorrow to settle this matter," the Red note said.

A release earlier from headquarters of the supreme allied commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, said the Reds made the charge in a radio contact with the United Nations command advance headquarters in Korea. It gave the number of soldiers as three, instead of four. There were no details of the alleged incident.

No Advance Notice
The announcement by Ridgway's headquarters came as a surprise to correspondents in Tokyo. The usual advance notice that an announcement is coming was not made.

It was the twelfth time since the Korean war armistice talks opened at Kaesong July 10 that the Communists have charged the United Nations with violating the five-mile neutral zone.

The UN command has admitted one of these charges — that one of its planes strayed the zone accidentally Sept. 10.
The Reds called off the truce talks Aug. 23 after charging that a United Nations plane had bombed the Kaesong area the night before. The latest Red charge dimmed even further the slight chances that the talks can be resumed.

Made Offer to Meet
The charge was made only about 24 hours after Ridgway had offered to have his liaison officers meet with their Red counterparts to discuss conditions that could lead to resumption of the talks.

A headquarters release made it clear that Ridgway had stressed in his message the Communist responsibility to say when the truce talks will be resumed.

"There can be no resumption of the negotiations . . . until the Communists terminate the suspension of the armistice talks they declared on Aug. 23," the statement said.

The Allied commander told the Chinese and North Koreans he was ready to send his liaison officers "to discuss conditions that will be mutually satisfactory for a resumption of the armistice talks."

But he reminded the Reds that they had broken off the meetings — because of alleged Allied violations of the Kaesong neutral zone — and it was up to them to repair the breach.

The Ridgway message was milder in tone than many of the sharp notes he has sent to the Communist leaders, North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai.

And it hinted Ridgway may be willing to drop his suggestion that the truce talks be switched from Kaesong to another site.

Ridgway's willingness to discuss conditions under which the discussions can be reopened indicated this.

Council Votes To Buy Police New Uniforms

Business Before Session Was Chiefly Routine

By D. Kelly Scruton

Sedalia police officers are going to be dressed up in new uniforms, at least some of them will get new clothing, under a motion passed at the City Council meeting, Monday night. The Council voted to spend the $1,500 which was put in the Police Department budget last spring for new clothing.

The minutes of the Council meeting of Sept. 4 were read and approved. The minutes, however, did not carry the 7 to 1 vote on the motion of rotation of the police officer as was stated by Mayor Herb Studer at that time.

City Clerk Fred Handley, in reading the minutes stated only that the motion was carried by a "majority" and no vote by count was mentioned. No effort was made by any of the Democratic councilmen who said they didn't vote for it to correct the minutes. Mayor Studer stated after the completion of the reading of the minutes by Clerk Handley asked there were any objections or corrections and if not they would stand as approved. None of the councilmen had anything to say and they were approved.

Following the previous meeting Mayor Studer told the newspaper reporter the vote stood 7 to 1 for the motion, and at the time called Mr. Handley's attention to the vote.

Business Moves Rapidly

The meeting Monday night was short with routine business being transacted rapidly. All councilmen with the exception of Nathan Brown, Republican, Second Ward were present.

An ordinance to advertise for bids for the construction of sewer in Sewer District 80 was passed. The Council also accepted the bid of $375 for an overhead gas heater to be used in the city jail. The bid was read by Harry Moore, Democrat, First Ward, chairman of the Public Buildings and Grounds committee.

Councilman Harry O. Berry, Republican, First Ward, called attention to a serious accident at Missouri and Third, Sunday evening. He moved for an ordinance to establish a traffic light at the intersection. The motion was passed.

Councilman Clyde Swafford, Republican, Fourth Ward, suggested left turn traffic lanes on Broadway and the suggestion was accepted and passed by the Council.

Lashley Asks Light Change

Councilman Early Lashley, Democrat, Third Ward, added the lanes should also be placed on Ohio and suggested the lights be changed to meet with the left-turn situation. This suggestion was accepted and referred to City Engineer James I. Collins, to study.

Councilman T. J. McMillin, Republican, Fourth Ward, suggested left turn traffic lanes on Broadway and the suggestion was accepted and passed by the Council.

Attorney General is Club Speaker

J. E. Taylor Speaks To Optimists on The Constitution

J. E. Taylor, of Jefferson City, attorney general, was the speaker today noon at the meeting of the Optimist club at Bothwell hotel, taking for his subject: "The Federal Constitution."

On the 164th anniversary of the signing of our Constitution, the speaker said, it is fitting that all citizens should pause and reflect on what our Constitution means to them and should give heartfelt thanks that we are fortunate enough to live under its protection.

While the constitution is brief, hundreds of learned treatises have been written about it by the sages of both present and the past, and neither have agreed to its meaning, Mr. Taylor said.

In 1787 each locality was self sufficient and there were no ways of communication as there are today, and people of one colony had little in common with another colony, the speaker said.

Congress had little power in 1787, Mr. Taylor said, and called a convention amending the confederation, with George Washington as chairman. There were many disputes in the amending of the confederation or to have a new constitution and after much argument the speaker said, Benjamin Franklin called for prayer for guidance of the group.

After much debate and compromise the final draft of the Constitution was ready for signatures of deputies on September 17, 1787 and it was three years before the last one signed, Mr. Taylor said.

The speaker stated that the Constitution must have been inspired by the divine because it had stood through the years and even though the forefathers could not have foreseen the problems of today the Constitution has withstood the test of time.

Toning Up Tone's Face Lies Ahead

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Franchot Tone's face may look as if it had tangled with a food mixer when he leaves California hospital in two weeks.

Doctors attending the actor say they don't know how his profile will be for movie closeups when they remove the bandages. "In a general way," says Dr. Leland House, who patched up Tone's smashed face, "it's reasonably certain he'll look like Franchot Tone, but as for closeups, who knows?"

Tone and his lawyer, Kenneth Chantry, were to confer today on whether to seek a criminal complaint against actor Tom Neal, whose lethal fists sent Tone to the hospital. The actors came to blows early last Friday morning over the affections of Barbara Payton, a voluptuous blonde movie actress.

The Ridgway message was milder in tone than many of the sharp notes he has sent to the Communist leaders, North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai.

And it hinted Ridgway may be willing to drop his suggestion that the truce talks be switched from Kaesong to another site.

More People on Wheels In The Defense Program

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The defense program is sending more people into homes on wheels. Defense workers and military men are the biggest buyers of trailers now, dealers report.

Part of this is due to housing shortages in new and rapidly growing industrial areas. But the Trailer Coach Manufacturers Association of Chicago stoutly asserts today that this is also part of a trend that set in after the war—a growth in the number of mobile workers who follow the best job opportunities.

The association estimates that one and a half million Americans now live in trailers and that their number increases by about 200,000 each year. A rough estimate puts 225,000 retired persons in homes on wheels, following the sun; and perhaps 50,000 service men and their families. Some 700,000 use trailers simply as homes, with no intention of using the wheels to go anywhere.

But the association believes that 550,000 mobile workers and their families live in trailers. The transient worker isn't new to the

AFL to Have Stand Strictly Independent

Not Have Tieup In Attitude of Other Labor Bodies

By Robert W. Wells

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor plans to take its stand on 1952 congressional elections without regard to the attitude of other labor organizations.

The AFL's Labor League for Political Education, meeting at the federation's annual convention, last night drew plans for a strictly independent campaign—as opposed to the AFL-CIO unity program which featured the 1950 elections.

Today the delegates took time off from the convention business for a day of sight seeing.

The league's administrative committee, in rejecting the 1950 CIO-AFL publicity campaign, declared:

"One lesson that we should have learned . . . is that labor can often get too much public credit for supporting a particular candidate. . . . In some instances we only played into the hands of our enemies, who pointed to our own publicity and said, 'See, the labor bosses have teamed up on me.'"

However, if the Education League has its way, the AFL's political effort won't be weakened. The committee said it must redouble its efforts to get out the votes for candidates friendly to labor.

"There is no question," it reported, "that we have the votes to elect a friendly Congress in 1952. But those votes are purely potential. Registration drives must be commenced wherever they are not being carried on now."

Whenever possible, the committee said, our leagues should start exerting influences on both parties to put up good candidates.

The committee set as its goal for 1952, the election of Congress which will repeal the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Face Tough Campaign
And it warned AFL members that they face a tough campaign — "character assassination and outright misrepresentation" — backed by huge expenditures of money.

The AFL's campaign will be directed especially at the big city vote.

The committee said: "Our task in both the southern Democratic primaries and in the general elections in the north will be to keep the city working man's attention on the bread-and-butter issues and not on the false issues and misrepresentations that our opposition will raise."

In discussing opposition efforts, the committee declared: "The poor and the less educated (in the cities) are the most susceptible to professional specialists exploiting race hate, religious prejudice, unfounded charges of Communism, and general doubt and bigotry."

The AFL political experts said they must not let candidates whom they regard as reactionary cloud election issues with floods of oratory.

As an example, the committee cited Senator Knowland (R-Calif.).

Senator Knowland, it said, "has convinced many that he is a leading authority on how to lick the Communies in Asia."

"But," the committee declared, "talk is cheap. What the league must do is to get the eyes of California voters on Knowland's record of action."

It listed the Senator's record as follows:

"Knowland voted wrong 10 times out of 11 votes. . . . He voted against both economic and military aid to Korea. He voted against the Voice of America. He voted against Point Four. . . . He voted against price controls last year and against railroads April year. He voted against troops for Europe and against war contract renegotiation."

The committee said that Knowland deliberately seeks publicity on foreign issues to "smoke screen his anti-American domestic record."

Meet Tonight on Compensation

A meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the assembly room of the court house for the explanation of the new Missouri Unemployment Compensation law.

Sponsoring the meeting are the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce.

At Long Last Autos May Stay at Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 18.—(AP)—City council finally decided last night that automobiles are here to stay.

It repealed its 1850 ordinance on horse-drawn vehicles. City auditor R. P. Bartholow reported the city was losing money. He said his office issued this year 11 one-horse wagon license at $2, one two-horse license at $6 and one two-horse buggy license at $1.50. This adds up to $38.50 and its costs the city $50 for the plates.

Congress Approves Sum of $22,462,000 For Sedalia Air Base

House Sanction of Accord by Committee of Huge Building Program for Defenses Sends the $5,864,301,178 Bill to President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Congress gave its final approval today to a $5,864,301,178 military construction program designed to shore up this country's defenses against Russia.

The projects as approved include:

Missouri—Sedalia A.F. Base, $22,462,000; Grandview airport, $19,019,000; Ford Leonard Wood, $1,976,400; St. Louis Records Depot, $22,700,000.

House approval of a conference committee agreement adjusting House-Senate differences over a few items sent the bill to President Truman.

The measure authorizes construction of hundreds of air bases, depots, training camps and other military installations in this country and abroad. Congress has yet to appropriate the money to pay for them.

Biggest Share to Air Force
The biggest share of the program is for the air force—approximately $3,480,000,000 including about $1,000,000,000 to build a string of secret overseas bases girdling Russia.

Here's what other branches of the armed services get:
Army—Inside continental United States, $890,000,000; outside, $175,000,000; secret facilities, $300,000,000. Total, $1,365,000,000.

Navy and Marines—Inside continental United States, $597,000,000; outside, $74,000,000; secret, $113,000,000. Total, $785,000,000.

In addition, millions of dollars will be shared by all three services.

Sedalia's Hurt In a Collision

Dr. Marvin L. Crutcher, Mrs. Crutcher, 604 South Missouri, Dr. D. R. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, 1619 South Montauk, suffered injuries about 6:30 p.m. Sunday when the 1951 Chrysler driven by Dr. Edwards and a pickup truck, were in collision at the Pleasant Hill and Highway 50 junction.

Dr. Crutcher was thrown to the left against the steering wheel and suffered a cracked rib, bruised left arm, stiff knee and slight concussion. He was taken to the Research hospital for treatment in Kansas City.

Mrs. Crutcher also suffered bruises. Dr. Edwards received a laceration on his nose when thrown against the windshield.

Mrs. Edwards received bruises on both legs when thrown to the floor of the car, and other bruises about the body.

Dr. Edwards and the Crutchers had been in Kansas City and were enroute back to Sedalia. The pickup truck was headed north on Highway 7, when the accident occurred.

The Chrysler was practically demolished while considerable damage resulted to the pickup truck.

GOP Launches Torrid Assault Against Redistricting Plans

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 18.—(P)—Senate Republicans accused majority Democrats Monday of playing partisan politics with congressional redistricting.

One suggested the Democratic leadership was so "abject and pitiful in its weakness" the leaders should resign.

The outburst—the second within a week—was stirred up by the hot partisan issue of redistricting. It became the hottest issue in the fall session of the legislature because the 1950 census forced Missouri to trim its congressional districts from 13 to 11.

Today's ruckus started when Republicans tried to find out whether the Senate would do any work on its jammed calendar while waiting for a committee to come up with a redistricting bill for floor debate.

Work To Start Next Week
Senator Richard J. Chamier (D) of Moberly said the Senate probably would be ready to start work on redistricting by the first part of next week.

That touched off Senator W. H. Robnett (R) of Mountain Grove. He said it was part of the pattern of the whole session which has "revolved along and done nothing."

He said it was "almost an intolerable situation" to sit around and do nothing while the calendar is loaded with bills needing action.

Leadership so "abject and pitiful in its weakness," he said, should resign rather than force members to drive many miles to Jefferson City in order to do nothing when they arrive.

Senator C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley said it was generally agreed last spring the calendar would be open when the Senate returned for the fall session. Then he added:

"Now we find it is only open for a vicious, gerrymandering redistricting bill."

He asked whether politics is going to be injected into the state highway system and the police department of St. Louis. That was an obvious reference to published charges that Gov. Forrest Smith dictated the promotion last week of a police officer whose brother is an influential Democratic leader.

St. Louis, Hawkins said, "should stand aloof from the heavy hand of such cheap, partisan, gutter politics."

Sinister Plan Denied
Chamier, the Democratic floor leader, denied there was any "sinister, nefarious plan" to deprive any members of their rights on redistricting or anything else.

"Last week the accusation was that we were moving too fast," he said. "This week the accusation is that we're moving too slow."

"We can't blow hot and cold on this."

Chamier said the Senate would be further along with its business if it hadn't been for "Republican interference."

Senator William M. Quinn (D) of Maywood, president pro tem, laid part of the blame for the legislature's slow progress on absenteeism. Many times, he said, no business could be transacted because a quorum of 18 members was not present.

An Old Bottle Of Pop Worth $14,000 To Missouri Farmer

ANDERSON, Mo., Sept. 18.—(P)—How about trading a bottle of strawberry soda pop for a $14,000 farm in Kansas?

That's just what an oldtime miner and farmer now living in the splitlog country north of here expects to do next February 24, when he turns 65.

By a provision of his grandfather's will, George Willis should receive a farm in Montgomery county, Kansas, if on his birthday he can produce a bottle of strawberry soda bottled by the old George H. Redell Bottling Company of Joplin before the turn of the century.

Provision Dates Back 60 Years
The curious provision of the grandfather's will leads back to George's fifth birthday.

At that time, James Connor of Ochelata, Okla., then a part of Indian territory, loaded his grandson, George, in a buggy and drove from Galenda to Joplin to buy the youngster a birthday present.

The pair went to the old Redell Bottling Company plant and purchased a case of the strawberry soda.

Through the years Willis hoarded the supply, drinking a bottle only on very special occasions. It is not known just when Connor decided to insert the provision in his will but the Willis family carried the slowly dwindling case with them as they moved from one district mining camp to another.

Last year at Christmas, 59 years after the purchase, only three bottles were still intact.

Only One Bottle Remains
Willis, celebrating the holiday season, broke the seal on one and drank it, while shortly later one of his sons dropped a second bottle and broke it, leaving one survivor of a case of 24.

Willis will present the bottle, still sealed, to the Probate court at Independence, Kansas, next February 24 to receive title to the farm.

What will he do with the bottle of pop after he has produced it in Probate court?

"Drink it, of course," he says.

Damage Case Dropped
The damage case of Martha Smith vs R. R. Sellers was dropped from the Circuit Court docket Monday by the plaintiff with prejudice.

Output Greatly Increased
Before the war the trailer was thought of largely as a recreation adjunct—a way to go fishing or hunting, or to spend the winter in the south, the summer on the lake. In 1937 the average trailer was 14 feet long and cost less than $400. Around 5,000 were produced that year and industry sales totals were perhaps $17 million.

By 1947 the average trailer had grown to 25 feet, cost around $2,400 and 60,000 were produced. This year's production is expected to be a little larger than last year's 63,000 units, which were sold for $216 million. Seventy per cent of them are 20 feet or longer. The average ranges in price from $2,000 to $3,500, although luxury models sell at $6,000.

The association predicts that next year there will be 1.7 million persons living in trailers, in spite of production difficulties.

And it says that of the nation's 7.3 million persons expected to be living in retirement by 1960, five per cent will be housed in trailers, following the sun where the living is easy.

Doubts Soviets Start 'Hot War'

By Brack Curry

BONN, Germany, Sept. 18 — (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared tonight rearmament of Western Germany will represent a "terrible defeat" for the Soviet Union, but he predicted the Russians would not go to war to block it.

Adenauer told his people that "the fate of unhappy Korea will be our fate" if the Germans stay out of the western defense system. The Soviets, he said, will "not start a hot war" to block the integration of Germany in the western defense community as authorized by the western foreign ministers at Washington.

In an address recorded for broadcast over a nationwide radio network, the chancellor said the aim of Soviet policy toward the west is clear.

"She wants to make permanent the status of Germany as a political and military no-man's-land," Adenauer said. "This would make the integration of Western Europe impossible."

Adenauer's speech was generally the same as the one he suddenly cancelled last night two minutes before broadcast time. In tonight's version, however, he toned down some of his remarks about Soviet Russia.

In the cancelled address Adenauer had said that a Soviet attack against America and Europe joined in a common defense bloc would represent "mere suicide" and "a fatal risk."

Tonight he said aggression would "be more than dangerous" for the Soviets.

Cancel Hadacol Caravan Show

DALLAS, Sept. 18 — (AP) — A star-studded caravan show designed to advertise Hadacol patent medicine, was cancelled here in its 35th of a 50-performance schedule last night by the new owners of Hadacol.

With the show were such high-priced stars as crooner Dick Haymes and Brazilian fireball Carmen Miranda. Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey also was part of the show.

The new management announced that it has decided against the caravan type of advertising for Hadacol after a thorough study of all phases of promotion and advertising by the corporation.

"While caravan show advertising has proven very successful," said Richard L. Brown, Lafayette, La., spokesman for the owners, "we feel that a program of basic consumer advertising will prove more beneficial to the sale of a product such as ours."

Brown said that a program of basic consumer advertising with stepped-up schedules in newspapers and radio is now being prepared.

Former State Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc of Louisiana, former owner of Hadacol, is the one who started the caravan on its tour. It has starred such big names as Bob Hope, Jimmy Durante, Milton Berle, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Rudy Vallee, Candy Candido, Hank Williams and Minnie Pearl.

Bennie Hainen, Tipton, Mo., arrested by the police for careless driving on East Broadway from the railroad underpass on Broadway to Broadway and Marshall, was fined $25.00 by Judge Jerry Trotter this morning.

Hainen, informed he had been "clocked" at 60 miles per hour, said he wouldn't deny it, but was thinking about something else.

Judge Trotter lectured Hainen about his fast driving, especially since school has started and many children are on the streets. He issued a warning, "The next time it'll be different."

Assessed Fine of $25 For Careless Driving

Bennie Hainen, Tipton, Mo., arrested by the police for careless driving on East Broadway from the railroad underpass on Broadway to Broadway and Marshall, was fined $25.00 by Judge Jerry Trotter this morning.

Hainen, informed he had been "clocked" at 60 miles per hour, said he wouldn't deny it, but was thinking about something else.

Judge Trotter lectured Hainen about his fast driving, especially since school has started and many children are on the streets. He issued a warning, "The next time it'll be different."

THE STORY: John Clayton, ex-colonel of the Confederate cavalry, goes West after the Civil War and in Kansas City he is involved in a gun duel in which he kills one of two crooked gamblers.

ON the blanket in front of me were nine hundred hard Yankee dollars. All mine by gun-induced default.

Rising to go, I felt a hand on my shoulder. Tensing, I glanced at it, finding it more nearly resembled the paw of an old bear grizzly, than any human member. The owner of the hand redeemed the note of its bearlike promise.

He was not over five and a half feet tall, weighing I would say, 200 pounds, yet his voice was oddly soft, almost womanlike. "Son, I thought for a minute there you was gonna be weighed down by your boots when you made the big jump."

"Friend," I agreed, anxious to talk now that the tension was broken, "I was never so scared in my life."

"Wouldn't be surprised." There was a chuckle in the soft voice. "You looked cool as a cucumber and twice as green. Any idee who that was you was buckin'?"

Reaction to the string-up of the game was setting in hard. My esophagus wrestled manfully to see if it could keep my stomach pinned down. Apparently it could, at least long enough for me to answer. "No, none at all. His partner called him 'Slate,' I think."

"Yep. That's right. Name's Slate Meyer. John Slate Meyer, Slate to his friends, of which there ain't none. He's got another brand on him in this here range's tally books, though. Folks out there, gesturing vaguely off toward the west, 'call him 'Arapahoe Jack.'"

I thought it best to find a building to lean on. My knees had abruptly turned to pure gelatin, while my gullet threatened anew to loose its hammerlock on my stomach.

IF I had made an enemy, I had done no piker's job of it. Arapahoe Jack was almost a latter-day Simon Girty. I knew at once why the onlookers at our little game paid me such respect of distance following Slate's departure. Arapahoe Jack!

"If you're bound west," he offered, after hearing my story, "and can handle yourself like you can your gun, I can hire you on. My name's Ed Geary."

"Where you heading and what's the work?"

"Headin' for Montana Territory. Takin' a wagon train through. Twenty hook-ups. Mostly the people are headin' out for the goldfields. That ain't so much interest in the fact they're aimin' to go across the Powder River country to get there."

"Where do I fit in?"

"Scouts is scarce. There's more trains than there is of us to guide 'em. I need help and I figger four years of sneakin' around in the southern woods, pot-shootin' Yankees, nominates you."

"Mister," the impulse to accept came on me suddenly, "you've got yourself an apprentice. My name's John Clayton and west is my direction."

TWENTY-EIGHT days later, as we approached Fort Laramie, an event took place which shook even Geary to the soles of his moccasins.

Geary called me to him shortly after sunset, saying he had spotted smoke from many fires to our north. We squatted out of earshot of the others, under the bed of the lead wagon.

"Colonel," he continued (he always called me by rank, over my objections), "if those fires are what I think they are, we're in for a hot time."

"Indians?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Why Evita Peron Bowed Out

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

The inside, play-by-play story of how Evita Peron was forced to give up her dream of becoming the first woman vice president of the western hemisphere proves that a dictator is always subject to his army.

From the time Juan Peron came to power in Argentina (actually in June, 1943, three years before he formally assumed the presidency) all his associates recognized Col. Domingo Mercante as his heir-apparent. Mercante, a loyal Peronista from way back, was made governor of rich Buenos Aires province when Peron took over formally, and had long been scheming to be vice president when Peron ran for a second term.

However, Evita, supposedly content to accept the ministry of labor, decided about two years ago that she wanted to be his running mate instead. From that moment on, there was a grim, unceasing backstage struggle between opposing factions of the Peronista party, as well as between Evita's supporters and the armed forces.

Leader of the opposition within party ranks was Gen. Juan Pistarini, minister of public works and the only member of Peron's official family who ever got away with bucking the first lady on anything.

Evita's Enemy
Pistarini has always demonstrated unusual talent for getting away with things. From the very start of World War II, for instance, Pistarini was the most outspoken friend of the Axis inside the Argentine army. But he was also the first to see the handwriting on the wall and by early 1944 was plumping for an Argentine-U. S. rapprochement, arguing that his country's future lay in closer relations with the Yankees. It was also Pistarini who persuaded Peron to spend $800,000,000 for the entire U. S. surplus of war material in Italy, which won him the hearty gratitude of the army.

Up until six months ago, the military refused to take Evita's vice presidential aspirations seriously. This was because her husband had once privately informed a group of high-ranking officers that he would "talk her out of that nonsense." When it became evident that she intended to bull her way through, however, the under-cover conflict really got hot.

In June of this year, Pistarini finally advised Peron that the army just wasn't going to stand for Evita as his running-mate. To this the tough tyrant of the pamperas, dictator over 16,000,000 Argentines, in effect replied: "Well, you got to tell her that yourself. I can't do anything with her."

Diplomatically, Pistarini did just that — though through his wife, who is related to the family of Oscar Nicolini, Evita's stepfather and postmaster general in the present regime. The first lady's answer was an angry defy: She would show Pistarini and every one else just who was really running the "new Argentina" — the army or the workers.

Two million "descamisados," she promised, would gather in Buenos Aires to demand her candidacy.

At that point, Pistarini and Mercante, who each wanted the vice presidency, joined forces. After consultation, they persuaded the army to accept Evita's challenge. She was thereupon told that if even half that number of workers could be produced at the rally she planned the military would withdraw its opposition to her. Then, throughout the country, but especially in populous Buenos Aires province (5,000,000 inhabitants), army officers and Mercante supporters launched a unique campaign.

Astute Army Politics
Never attacking Evita personally, they appealed to the deep-rooted Latin tradition of male dominance, arguing that even in the "effeminate" U. S., the electorate would rebel against the idea of a woman in the country's No. 2 post. And through this, they played on the equally strong Argentine fear of ridicule.

The army worked through social and benevolent organizations, never directly through the unions, where all the leaders are controlled by Evita. And so successful was this proselytizing that, despite all the high-powered organizing Eva put into the effort, less than 400,000 showed up at the "monster rally," August 26.

There were a few hours of hectic uncertainty. The Peronista party, dominated by Evita's tame labor henchmen, nominated her anyway, along with her husband. But that same evening a group of general staff officers (Pistarini and Mercante kept discreetly out of sight) called at the presidential residence and presented a formal ultimatum: Either Evita would publicly renounce her candidacy, or the military would "reserve" its constitutional right to act in the national interest.

Even the strong-willed ex-chorus girl, who had already attained more power than any other member of her sex ever enjoyed anywhere in the Americas, knew then that the jig was up. So she quit fighting and went on the air next morning to turn down the vice presidential nomination.

That left the job wide open again, with Mercante and Pistarini — whose alliance of convenience was dissolved once they won the battle — the most likely prospects. Unquestionably, the army will now make the final decision. Equally without question, if either of those two gets it, he can count on the implacable enmity of an unforgiving Eva Peron, throughout his term of office.

Looking Backward
Forty Years
Enumeration of the school district of Sedalia shows 6,182 children between the ages of six and 20 years; 2,253 white males, 2,313 white females, 296 colored males and 320 colored females.

Ex-Governor W. T. Thornton of New Mexico, whose home is at Santa Fe, was in the city visiting his brother-in-law William J. Malby.

Harold McLaughlin, Norman Stevens, DePerkins Sturges, Willis Combs and Mark Ferrell are among the Sedalia high school graduates of the class of 1911 leaving for Columbia to attend the University of Missouri.

Attorney James T. Montgomery has been appointed representative for the Missouri State Fish and Game department to the national conservation congress to be held in Kansas City Sept. 25, 26 and 27.

N. H. Gentry left for Nashville, Tenn., to serve as a judge in the cattle department of the Tennessee state fair.

LA JOLLA, Calif.—(P)—Bacteria found in sediments deposited on the floor of the Pacific several millions of years ago are still capable of reproducing themselves, according to Richard V. Morita, of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Whether they are, as has been claimed, "the oldest living things on earth," is as yet impossible to determine, says Morita.

One theory is that the bacteria in the lower layers of sediment have existed in a state of suspended animation for some millions of years. A contradictory theory is that they have been able to carry on normal functions, reproducing and dying, throughout the eons they have been locked in the mud at the bottom of the Pacific. Neither theory can be proved absolutely as yet, Morita states.

Oldest British Admiral
SINGAPORE—(P)—The oldest admiral afloat with the British Royal Navy is "looking for a place to make my home."

Sir Ralph Crooke, 75, arrived here on the eve of his fifth retirement from the Royal Navy. Accompanied by Lady Crooke, Sir Ralph is making a round trip from Capetown to Japan and back to see "if the climate agrees with a retiring couple" in the Far East. An expert on gunnery and coastal defense, the Admiral was called back to duty by the Admiralty four times since his initial retirement in 1928. He joined the British Navy in 1888 as a 14-year-old midshipman.

Time on His Hands

GOSHEN, N. Y. — William H. Cane, Hambletonian impresario, may be running out of "time" in naming the fleet sons and daughters of his great brood mare, On Time. He's already adopted four "time" classifications.

On Time's first foal was a colt called "Good Time." The mare's next foal was a filly named "Our Time." The third was labelled "My Time." Her foal of 1950, not due to race until next season, has been named "Your Time."

The 1950 foal hasn't been named as yet — but there's still time.

Out at Home

DENVER — Outfielder Bill Bruton of the Denver Bears was knocked cold in a collision at home plate. The first question he asked when he came to was: "Did I score?"

Alas, he didn't. He toppled to the ground short of the plate after colliding with Catcher Bill Biddle's elbow and Biddle tagged him out. The Sioux City Soos won the Western league game, 1-0.

A few minutes later two Hins-dale policemen drove up and invited Barbara to visit the police station, from which they called Chicago police. They learned Barbara's mother, Phyllis, had told Chicago officers about the girl's trip after learning of her plans from Sharon.

Barbara's parents drove out to Hinsdale and picked her up. She wasn't too hungry. The custard stand lady had given the wife
farer a double dip and a hot dog
as well.

Three Killed in Head-on Collision

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Sept. 18.— Three persons were killed and two injured severely today in a head-on collision of a motor car
and a truck on U. S. highway 36.
Dead were Howard Leggett, 32,
a Korean war veteran, his wife,
Lottie and a baby boy of Lamar,
Colo.

Injured were two men on a trailer-truck of the Kramer Machine Co., Leavenworth, Kas. They are Charles W. Saunders, 26, Galveston, Tex., and Howard Eugene Coates, 23, Leavenworth. They are in a hospital here.

Papers showed Leggett was discharged from the army last month
as a master sergeant. He won five bronze stars, a unit citation
and a silver star.

The accident occurred at 6:25
a. m. just west of Utica, Mo.,
which is six miles west of Chillico-
the.

Highway patrolman Russell Purmord said the westbound Kramer
truck was attempting to pass an other truck on a long sweeping curve.

Ordinances May Be Revised Councilman Reed also asked about having the City Ordinances revised. Considerable discussion was held over the matter as to the estimate cost. City Counselor Chester Wolfe called attention to the fact the last revision was done in 1912. He explained it probably would take a year to make the revision, but that it should be done.

Mayor Studer agreed the suggestion was well taken and granted the revision should be given consideration. He directed the Counselor to investigate and ascertain what an estimate could be made on this work. Mr. Wolfe compared the revision with the revision of the state statutes. He said the ordinances should be properly indexed.

Councilman Swafford asked information regarding an ordinance
which would make it possible for the city to have weeds cut on vacant lots and charge the bill to the tax bill. Councilor Wolfe was instructed to check with the matter.

Chief Talks On Uniforms
Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors was granted permission to talk in regards to police uniforms.
He explained to the Council that his men had not had any new uniform clothing for sometime,
telling some of the men were "out
at the elbows" and told of one officer having to go up on Main street and bought a pair of pants
for one dollar so he could have blue pants. On a motion to expend up to $1,500 as suggested by Mayor Studer, the motion was made by Councilman McMillin
and seconded by Elmer Summers, Democrats, Second Ward. It was carried.

Councilman Summers then told
of complaints of property owners
in northeast Sedalia as to alleys which had been damaged when the new sewer was laid down the center of them. He also called attention to footwalks at Engineer and Howard. The matter was referred to Engineer Collins.

Engineer Collins explained that Engineer and Saline streets belonged to the Twelve-Mile-Road District for maintenance in regards to work the city had done on these streets. He informed the Council
he would furnish each Councilman with a list of streets under jurisdiction. Summers also asked the Engineer to check into a ditch from New York to Hill on the southside
of Saline, which has become stopped up, causing rain waters to rush down the center of the street.

Gross Balks On Answers In Graft Case

Witness Refuses To Reply After an Interrogation

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(P)— Bookie Harry Gross suddenly refused to answer any more questions today in the mass graft trial
of 18 policemen.

The 35-year-old kingpin Brooklyn gambler clammed up after about an hour and 20 minutes on the witness stand.

"Mr. Helfand, I refuse to answer any more questions—now or later," Gross told Assistant District Attorney Julius Helfand.

Then the pudgy bookie stepped down from the witness stand.

Brooklyn Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz at once ordered a recess.
Gross' dramatic change of mind
came as he was being asked about
the opening of his third horse
betting room under police protection
in Brooklyn.

He later pyramided this humble
beginning into a $200,000,000 a year gambling ring that allegedly paid off $1,000,000 in bribes to crooked police.

There was a slight pause in Gross' testimony while a map of Brooklyn was brought in and set up under Judge Leibowitz' direction so the all-male jury might follow the testimony.

Some slight exchanges went on
between the judge and defense
lawyers and then Gross suddenly announced he would say no more.

Tells of Pay to Police
Up to that point, Gross had testified—without protest—that he paid various commands of the police department $700 a month
for protection of the first horse
room he ever ran.

Gross said he had a runner who used to telephone bets to Union City, N. J., where Gross eventually set up another horse room.

Gross said he started "taking bets" when he was running a newsstand in Brooklyn, became a runner who picks up bets for a book-maker and decided to open his own bookie establishment in 1941.

Still Blocked on Redistricting

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 18.—
(P)—Senate Republicans announced today "We will oppose to a man" a congressional redistricting plan submitted by majority Democrats.

Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brunley, caucus chairman for the Republican minority, reported the decision after a closed door session of more than an hour in his office.

He said the Republicans hoped to present a substitute plan which would be more fair.

The touchy issue of redistricting has kept the normally staid senate in an uproar since the last session started last week.

In a brief senate session today,
Republicans failed to shake the majority decision to put off all other work until the redistricting
bill is disposed of.

Sen. Arkey W. Frieze (R) of Carthage tried to force the senate to take up bills pending on the calendar for passage.

"I can see no good reason why redistricting should suspend all other business of the senate," he said. "It just doesn't add up to me—it doesn't make sense."

But before a vote could be taken on Frieze's motion, Sen.
Richard J. Chamier (D) of Moberly, blocked it with a quick motion to adjourn. Such a motion is not debatable. It carried on a straight party vote, 14 to 12, suspending all work until noon
tomorrow.

Girl Is Injured,
Mother Is Killed

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark., Sept.
18.—(P)—A young girl escaped with a bruised knee when she tumbled from a moving motor car,
but her mother was killed when she leaped from the vehicle before it stopped.

J. J. Smith of Holly Springs,
Miss., told police his five-year-old daughter Clara Bell fell to the pavement when she accidentally opened a door while he was driving about 45 miles an hour near here yesterday.

He said his wife Clara shouted,
"Lord have mercy, the baby fell
out," and leaped from the car
before he could restrain her.

Mrs. Smith, who was 51, was dead on arrival at a hospital at Memphis, Tenn. Clara Bell was dismissed after receiving first aid treatment.

Families Flee Brush Fire

BANNING, Calif., Sept. 18.—(P)—
Seven southern California families, their belongings heaped
on trucks, today fled their homes
as a six-day-old brush fire raged
unchecked toward their ranches.

An eighth rancher, Charles
Gandy, said he had been preparing 30 years for such a fire and intended to stay and fight it.

Elsewhere, in the parched and fire-weary state the situation was improving. Only one other fire was reported uncontrolled and the several score spot fires touched off
by lightning over the week-end
were being subdued rapidly.

The second unchecked fire was on Boardman ridge in Mendocino
national forest in northern California's lake country. A total of 600 weary fire fighters battled to check the 6,400-acre blaze that had burned more than 33,000, 000 board feet of timber.

The fire threatening the eight southern California ranches is on San Geronimo mountain near Banning.

U. S. forest service spokesmen estimate the fire has blackened
more than 9,100 acres in six days.
Loss is estimated at $200,000.

New Ideas For Patients' Morale

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—(P)—The American Hospital association
heard all kinds of new ideas to help the morale of patients.

Montreal's General Hospital reported it uses the "telecast"—a portable television which can be trundled down the aisle of a ward
and plugged into the wall near the bed.

A coin-box telephone mounted on a cart has a long cord with a plug on the end. The hospital gets 15 per cent of the money
dropped into the slot for outgoing calls.

Wesley Memorial hospital in Chicago reported it had gained
good-will with a lost-and-found department which arranged for the return of personal articles left
by former patients.

Dr. John W. Cline, president of the American Medical association, warned in a talk last night that doctors and hospitals are interdependent.

Mortality Rate
Been Reduced

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—(P)—The
mortality rate among wounded
soldiers reaching battalion aid stations in the Korean war is a little more than half the World War II figure, Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong, surgeon general of the army, reported today.

He said in the present conflict
25 men die out of every 1,000
reaching the battalion medical stations, compared with 45 out of 1,000 in World War II and 90
in World War I.

In St. Louis to attend the American Hospital association convention, Armstrong said the rate has been reduced through speedy evacuation of wounded, large scale
use of whole blood and "wonder drugs" and the presence of better trained young physicians in the combat zone.

His constitution, he pointed out,
is the oldest Constitution in the world and is the oldest form of government in existence. Since the framing of the Constitution
every other form of government has changed, he said, and other nations have copied ours.

Tribute To Framers
That the Constitution of the United States has endured is a tribute to those who framed it but
to those who later construed it.

Speaker said, it is the greatest contribution to political science
of all time. He said the Constitution is the greatest of all time.

Mr. Taylor closed by telling of the blessing of the Constitution
under which we live, the security
it offers and the protection to generations to come, and that next year and each year to come we should observe the anniversary
and read again, especially in these troubled times, this Constitution under which we receive
the privileges of life and freedom.

The speaker was introduced by Jim Reed, program chairman.

Edward G. Ringen, president, presided over the meeting and invocation was by Rev. William C.
Bessmer.

Singing was led by Charles Hanna with Mrs. E. G. Ringen at the piano.

Guests were: James P. Durely,
George H. Scruton, O. B. Pound-
stone, Stanton Hudson, A. W. Halter, Joe Rudick, Judge J. V. Kesterson, Scott Webster, William F.
Brown, Roy Snyder, Bryan Howe,
H. C. Salver, Judge A. J. Har-
lan, J. H. Bagby, D. S. Lamm, Charles Holman, Lawrence Barnett, A. H. Wilks, Harold Bam-barg, Guy Peabody, and Frank W. Hayes.

Cigarettes and Liquor Loot In a Burglary

IRONTON, Mo., Sept. 18.—(P)—
Theft of an estimated $3,000
worth of cigarettes and liquor from the Mayes Tobacco and Liquor store here some time Sunday night
was being investigated today by a highway patrol. The thieves broke down a door, carried away
with 480 cartons of cigarettes and 777 bottles of whiskey as well as $35 in cash, the patrol said.

Injuries In An Auto Accident Are Fatal

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 18.—
(P)—The highway patrol here
said today Arthur Kielhofner, 30,
Ansel, Mo., died at a Cape Girardeau hospital last night near his home town. His automobile overturned at the south end of the new construction on highway 61.

Officers Elected By County Treasurers

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 18.—
(P)—The Missouri County Treasurer's association elected H. B.
Clarkson, Macon county treasurer,
as president here today.

Reed Munford of Buchanan
county was chosen vice president and Ruby Frakes of Ray
county, secretary-treasurer.

Avoids Cars on Highway Is Hit By Train

LIBBY, Mont., Sept. 18.—(P)— Frank Rutsohn didn't want to walk on the highway to his home
two miles from here because he feared he'd be hit by an automobile.

So he started hiking down the railroad track.

He is in a hospital with a broken leg, hit by a train.

Congratulates New York Times

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(P)—
The New York Times, 100 years
old today, received congratulations
from President Truman.

The President—whose message
was among many received from world, national and local leaders
and groups—told Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher:

"The New York Times, 100 years
old today, has been a constant source of information and guidance to the American people. Its reporting of the news has been fair, accurate and fearless. It has been a great asset to the nation
and to the world."

Cabinet Shifts in Iran Impend

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 18.—(P)—
Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh was reported today to be shaking up his cabinet to strengthen his nationalist government against internal political opposition and economic pressure from Britain.

Finance Minister Mohammed Ali Varesi has submitted his resignation, informed sources said. He has been reported increasingly critical of Mossadegh's financial policies in the light of Iran's loss of oil revenues.

Oppose Quotas
On Slaughtering

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(P)— Cattleman urged Congress today
to turn down President Truman's plan for livestock slaughtering quotas. They told a Senate banking and currency subcommittee that "further monkeying with the machinery of beef production" may prevent a near record number of cattle in 1952.

The subcommittee is studying proposals to give the President
power to impose slaughtering quotas. There were quotas last June and July, but the new controls law ruled them out.

In an angry outburst during hearings today, Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) threatened to resign
from the subcommittee. He accused subcommittee chairman Robertson (D-Va.) of "taking advantage of me" by imposing a 10-minute limit on the questioning of witnesses. Robertson contended that Capehart had gone beyond the limit in questioning
Nathaniel Goldfinger, CIO economist, who denounced the Capehart
amendment in the existing price control law. Capehart remained at the hearing, however.

Glasses Help Sam
BOSTON—(P)—Sam Jethroe is more than a switch hitter. He wears glasses while playing center field for the Boston Braves but takes them off when at bat. Slightly near-sighted, Sam tried glasses in the outfield in mid-June and it helped his fielding. Previously he had lost three balls in the sun and each cost the Braves a ball game.

A Visit From a Hero

Nine-year-old Jerry Gustafson (left) is helped to a drink of water by Parker Stratt, 10, as he visits her in a hospital in Coral Gables, Fla., Sept. 17. Parker literally pulled the girl from the jaws of death when an alligator seized her arm as the two were playing at the edge of a water-filled rockpit. The six-foot reptile lunged from the water to grasp the girl's arm. Parker freed her and pulled her from the water. Her arm was lashed from wrist to shoulder and several bones were broken. Stolen Car Speared by Piling

Peached precariously on a ladder from the Dover Street bridge, an unidentified fireman accompanies to safety three of the four youths who rocketed over the span in a stolen car in Boston Sept. 16. The car is seen impaled from windshield to trunk on a piling. The fourth boy was thrown clear and swam ashore. Patrolmen Arthur Emsen and Paul W. Devine, who were chasing the stolen car and leaped into the water to rescue the boys, are shown under the ladder and hanging onto the car. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Mondschein Coaches In Israel

NEW YORK — (P)—Irving (Moon) Mondschein, National AAU Decathlon champ in 1944, '46 and '47, has gone to Israel to teach track and field coaches. Mondschein also will work with the Israeli track team in preparation for its participation in the 1952 Olympic Games at Helsinki.

Mondschein was given a one year leave of absence by Lincoln U. at Oxford, Pa., where he is track, football and basketball coach.

Before leaving amateur athletics became a coach, Moon was a football and track star at NYU. This will be Mondschein's second trip to Israel. In 1950 he coached the U. S. athletes who competed in the Maccabian Games.

Horse Never Paid Off

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — (P)—Miss Jeanne Crain, a harness racing mare named after the movie star, was sold at public auction as a weanling in 1944 for more than $5,000,000. The mare was donated to a war bond drive at the time and was purchased by Tony Hulman, president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. He later sold her.

Despite all the ballyhoo Miss Jeanne Crain never got to the races and is now used for foaling purposes.

Emperor Host to Gen. Ridgway

By O. H. P. King

TOKYO, Sept. 18.—(P)—Emperor Hirohito was host today to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and his wife at a history-making luncheon in the Imperial palace.

It was the first time in more than six years of Allied occupation that a Supreme Allied Commander had called on the Emperor. Gen. Douglas MacArthur never called at the Imperial palace although the Emperor paid him official calls.

Today's affair was strictly social. The Ridgways were invited by the Emperor and Empress.

Other guests were U. S. Ambassador and Mrs. William J. Sebald and Lt. Col. E. S. Adams, Jr., Ridgway's aide.

Signing of the Japanese peace treaty at San Francisco apparently was the signal for social relations between the Emperor and the man who represents the forces that defeated Japan in World War II.

Yasumasa Matsudaira, chief of the board of chamberlains, greeted the party and escorted it to the third floor. There the Emperor and Empress received them. Luncheon was served in the imperial banquet room.

Among those present were Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida; Takano Mitani, grand chamberlain; Michiharu Tajimi, chief of the household board; Takeko Hoshina,

Senior Council Boosts Stadium

The Smith-Cotton Senior Council held its first weekly meeting Monday, Sept. 17, with George Deuel, president, presiding.

The meeting began with the students' prayer followed by roll call.

Officers for the '51 Senior Council are as follows: President, George Deuel (elected last year); vice president, William Arnold (elected last year); secretary, Harold Jones; sergeant-at-arms, William Cooper; parliamentarian, James Dent; reporter, Shirley Bennett.

The council sent a telegram to Bud Thomas in Philadelphia in behalf of the Smith-Cotton student body, congratulating him on being admitted to big league baseball.

Tigers Open League Play Friday Night

Meet Yellow Jackets Of Kemper; No Injuries on Squad

The Smith-Cotton Tigers turned their attention to their initial Central Missouri Conference game and first road trip of the season at Monday afternoon's practice, after registering an easy 27-20 triumph over the Marshall high school Owls at Liberty park Friday night. The Tigers will journey to Kemper Military school Friday to meet the Yellow-Jackets in a night contest at the Kemper stadium.

Smith-Cotton came out of the Marshall game in excellent physical condition. Not a serious injury was reported according to Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow, although several boys were rubbing slight bruises and sore spots.

In Monday's drill Dow changed the practice pace as he eased-up from the rugged sessions of the past two weeks for the first time.

An encouraging note came from halfback Bobby Lane, who carried his injured shoulder had improved greatly. Lane shares the right halfback slot with Dave Lingle. He was the only player Dow used sparingly at Friday night's tilt.

'Break Up Musial' Is National Chant; He Tops Hitters

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 — (P) — Back a few years, the National league chant was: "Break up the Cardinals."

Now it's just: "Break up Stan Musial!"

And don't think that wouldn't suit National league pitchers fine. Musial is the loop's No. 1 terror guy with the bat.

Currently, he's on his way to a fifth batting title, with a .367 average. With only 13 games left, it seems impossible for anyone to top the St. Louis slugger.

Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia has the best chance, if you can call it that. He's hitting .346 — 21 points behind Musial.

Musial, in 141 games, had 195 hits in 532 at bats. He lost nine points of his lead last week to Ashburn, who, not so incidentally, leads all batters with 206 hits.

Ashburn, however, is far from the league record of most hits in one season. In 1920, the great George Sisler hit safely 257 times.

Texas-Kentucky Battle of Pass Vs. Land-lubber

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 18 — (P) — Football's sudden death weapon—the forward pass—will be in rival hands here at Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon, when the University of Texas Longhorns meet the University of Kentucky.

In the southwest, where the pass was created, the invader in this intersectional feud—the University of Kentucky—will go the aerial route. Host Texas will turn land-lubber. Once again Kentucky, the 1951 Sugar Bowl champions, has Babe Parilli, its all-America passer on the firing end.

Parilli and his mates warmed up for the school's first meeting with Texas last Saturday by rolling over Tennessee Tech, 72-13.

Texas is stressing the ground game this season. Ed Price, who succeeded Blair Cherry, has switched to the split-T formation, the same offensive style of play that has made Oklahoma a ground-eating menace in recent seasons.

Saints Need One Game in Playoff

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 18 — (P) — The St. Paul Saints, needing a single victory to nudge Louisville out of the American association playoffs, will ask John (Doc) Rutherford to turn the trick tonight.

Rutherford tossed a two-hitter at the Colonels Saturday.

Opposing him will be Jim Atkins, who was shelled from the Louisville box in the Saturday game.

The Saints took a 3-1 lead in the series last night by winning, 3 to 2, on the strength of a stolen base.

Fleet Dan Ozark, who had walked, stole second without a play being made on him. That put him in position to score when pinch-hitter Mickey Rocco lined a single to center.

At that point in the ninth inn-

for the world's championship rodeo, scheduled Sept. 26 through Oct. 21.

Boxer's New Safety Mat Called Success

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 18 — (P) — One of boxing's newest safety devices — a "safety" mat for the ring — was tried in a fight here last night and was acclaimed a success.

In the fight, Joey DeJohn, 161, of Syracuse, knocked out Lee Sala, 160 1/4 of Donora, Pa., in 2:29 of the second round.

Sala went down on his back, his head hitting the floor. Officials said Sala's head hit and stayed on the mat — no thud and no bounce such as took the life of George Flores recently.

They said the mat, made of a plastic combination, served as a shock absorber and probably saved Sala a serious injury.

Usual Defeat By Yanks May Mean Pennant

Indians' 1-2 Loss Was 10th of 11 tilts In Yankee Stadium

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's vanishing Indians are rid of New York for the season but they may have left the pennant behind in Yankee stadium.

As they have done in all but one of their 11 games on the Yankees' home grounds, the Indians lost again yesterday. This time they dropped a galling 2-1 tussle that put them a full game behind the front-running New Yorkers.

It may be a case of out of the frying pan into the fire for the beleaguered Tribe, who open a two-game series with the Red Sox today in Boston. The Red Sox, winners of six of their last seven starts and fresh from a 12-5 romp over the Chicago White Sox, are only a game and a half behind Cleveland in this tense three-team American league race.

Losing to New York is an old Cleveland custom. In the last 20 years the Indians have won only one season series from the Yankees. That probably accounts for only one Cleveland championship during that time.

Oddly enough, the Indians' edge over the Yankees did not come in 1948, Cleveland's pennant winning year. It came in 1945—a 12 to nine edge—when the Indians wound up fifth. But they had the satisfaction of seeing the Yankees place fourth, the lowest New York finish since 1925.

It was Phil Rizzuto, the shortest of the Yanks, who beat the Indians yesterday with the shortest of hits. The winning blow—a deft squeeze bunt that didn't even reach the pitcher's mound—brought in Joe DiMaggio with the payoff run.

It came in the last of the ninth after Cleveland manager Al Lopez had ordered pitcher Bob Lemon to walk Bobby Brown on purpose with runners on first and third and one out.

The victory went to Eddie Lopat, who squelched the Indians with three hits to reach the 20-win mark for the first time in his career. The only Cleveland tally came in the sixth and it took an error to pave the way for the Indians' unearned run. An infield out followed by Bobby Avila's single brought the run across.

A 13-hit Red Sox attack, featured by the clubbing of Ted Williams and Clyde Vollmer, gave Ray Scarborough his 12th victory over the White Sox. Williams had

Bean Ball Puts Campanella Out; Loss Hurts Bums

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 — (P) — Just before the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers took the field yesterday for their season finale against the Chicago Cubs, husky Roy Campanella, frisky as a colt, chorled:

"Don't worry about those New York Giants catching us — we're really seven games ahead of them. Those seven more they lost than we have are gone forever." Actually, the Brooks now lead by four games.

Today, Campanella — rated as perhaps the best catcher in baseball — was resting in a Chicago hospital after an accidental beaning by the Cubs' Turk Lown. The Dodgers felt as though they also had received a collective black-jacking. Roy's condition was pronounced fair.

But when he will return to the Brooklyn lineup was questionable. Without Campanella, the Dodgers, who play the Cardinals at St. Louis tonight, conceivably could back away from the National league pennant which the Giants alone believe they, themselves, might miraculously snatch.

The Brooks have 13 games left, the Giants nine.

The husky Negro's absence was felt immediately yesterday as the Dodgers blew a 3-0 lead and lost to the Cubs, 5-3. Big Don Newcombe, who had whipped the Cubs four times previously this season without defeat, apparently missed the behind-the-plate generalship of Campanella, who was felled in the second inning.

Need Coffee For Good Cup Of Coffee

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The great American tragedy today is the average cup of coffee.

The average cup of coffee is what the average man gets when he asks for a good cup of coffee.

And it makes him madder than corruption in government, the decline of youthful morals, or a hole in his sock.

He is willing to put up with most of the blemishes of an imperfect world. He will face up to the fact life has him behind the 8-ball; he will, under pressure, admit to certain small defects in his own character; he does not, ordinarily, complain that all horse races are fixed just because the horse he bet on lost.

In most things he will take the bitter with the sweet. But not when it comes to his cup of coffee. Here he stands four-square against any compromise. He wants exactly what he wants, and nothing else will make him happy.

And the real issue before the people every day is: How to get a good cup of coffee. Not a good cup of nickel coffee. That issue has been fought out and lost. The problem is where to get an honest-to-flavor cup of coffee that will reach down into the gnawing morning anxiety of a man and say, "there, there, everything's going to be all right today!"

Give a man the wrong cup of coffee, however, and nothing can make his day right. He will criticize his own mother-in-law and detect hidden flaws in her daughter. He'll sing a song of woe until twilight.

The Best Formula

Why is it so difficult to get a good cup of coffee? Brewing it is no magic art, handed down secretly from generation to generation. Basically, it is the alchemy of coffee, water at the right temperature, and time. You mix them together in the proper proportions—and you get good coffee.

The classic formula for coffee: "It should be hot as hades, black as midnight, and strong as a good woman's love."

If you get a cupful of that, it doesn't make much difference whether somebody dropped eggshells in the pot to settle it. You can thicken it with sugar, or thin it with fat cream. But you can't wreck it.

The average cup of drugstore or cafeteria coffee, however, is more likely to be nothing but lukewarm, grey liquid fog caught in crockery. It has the personality of swamp mist, strained through sulphur, and bitter as an old regret.

Though it be served in a vessel of beaten gold—and it isn't—the stomach detects it as a fraud and grumbles in rebellion. It misses the mellow bite of authority, the true fragrance.

East and west and north and south the daily search goes on, the great American quest—for an authentic cup of coffee.

The restaurant proprietor who can distill it properly need never stay up nights trying to invent a better mousetrap. The world will beat a path to his door—and then beat in the door, if necessary, to get a cup.

But there is one ingredient most places don't seem to employ. They are trying to get a cup of coffee without using coffee. And that miracle no one has wrought.

300-Gun Harry. HOUSTON, Tex. — (AP) — Harry C. Knode, an enthusiastic Houston gun collector, estimates he has about 300 firearms, running from flintlocks to highly prized miniature pistols made in ancient times by apprentice gunsmiths.

Oldest guns in the Knode collection are matchlocks. He has both Asiatic and European models. Hammers on these weapons were called "serpentes," which released the trigger setting off a match into a pan for powder, which fired the charge in the barrel.

Knode is vice-president of the Texas Gun Collectors Association, which has 217 members.

High power spray guns are replacing traditional dipping vats in the fight against sheep ticks that interfere with America's wool production.

Displaced Farmers Available
WASHINGTON—(AP)—American farmers with labor problems can find a solution in the skilled European farmers now coming into this country from countries under the Communist yoke.

Rigidly tested by U. S. agricultural experts on their practical farming experience, the displaced farmers are mostly of German origin who were thrown off their farms by Communists. They are willing to start at the bottom as American farm workers. The more than 1,000 DP farming families are dairymen, poultrymen, cattlemen, wheat and corn farmers, truck farmers and hog raisers, for the most part.

Persons interested in sponsoring a displaced farmer may obtain more information by writing to the Displaced Persons Commission, Washington 25, D. C., or to their state Displaced Persons Commission.

Currency Treasury—Confederate, That Is
COLUMBIA, S. C.—(AP)—Sydney S. Kerskis, who believes he has the largest private collection of Confederate bonds and currency in the world, has 3,500 varieties of Confederate notes and 150 types of bonds and other fiscal paper. He is an army warrant officer stationed here.

A new landing system developed by engineers make it possible for elevators cars to land so smoothly that passengers cannot detect the exact instant the car stops.
